Woodbridge football team blanks Perth Amboy

@GregTufaro October 2, 2015

Woodbridge 33, Perth Amboy 0: After the offense scored on four of its first five possessions, the defense extended its shutout streak to six quarters as the undefeated Barrons rolled to their fourth victory.

With the win, Woodbridge remains in a tie for first place atop the Greater Middlesex Conference White Division with New Brunswick. Both teams will square off at Memorial Stadium on Friday night.

Quarterback Tracy Fudge threw his fourth touchdown pass of the season to Quaasim Glover, who entered the game with a league-leading 21 catches and 341 receiving yards.

The Barrons opened the game in a no-huddle offense designed to put points on the board quickly.

James Modica followed with a touchdown reception and Nate Lanier added two touchdown runs to help Woodbridge built a 33-0 halftime lead.

Lanier and Keshawn Henry, who have been a potent backfield tandem all season, paced a balanced rushing attack.

Marquan Paye, Nick Nyers and Dylan Leone anchored the defense, which has allowed just 26 points all season. Alex LaGrippio had a fumble recovery for Woodbridge.

"The kids just knuckled down and played sound across the board," Woodbridge head coach Bill Nyers said of his defensive unit, noting it made a nice goal-line stand in the third quarter to preserve the shutout.

"Even being up 33-0 at the time, I thought it was a good gut check."

Mid-State 38 and GMC football players to honor Evan Murray

Greg Tufaro, @GregTufaro 9:14 a.m. EDT
September 30, 2015

In a show of solidarity and as a symbol of respect for Warren Hills Regional High School quarterback Evan Murray, who died after being injured in a football game, players from two Central Jersey leagues will wear specially designed helmet decals for the remainder of the season beginning this weekend.

In addition, football-playing schools from the Mid-State 38 Conference, of which Warren Hills is a member, and the Greater Middlesex Conference will honor Murray with a moment of silence before or during all games this weekend.

Teams will have the option of holding a moment of silence before kickoff or during a stoppage of play exactly 18 minutes (real time, not scoreboard clock) after the start of each contest, with the 18-minute mark reflecting Murray's jersey number.

Wake for Evan Murray scheduled for Wednesday

The helmet decals, which Riddell designed and is donating to approximately 6,000 players at more than 60 schools, displays a blue lightning bolt, symbolic of the Warren Hills Blue Streaks' logo, piercing Murray's No. 18 in white numerals across a black backdrop.

The idea for the tribute was the brainchild of Mid-State 38 officials, including Arthur L. Johnson Regional Athletics Director Gus Kalikas, in concert with Riddell Central Jersey sales representatives Scott Kaye and Michael Frauenheim.

Lacerated spleen caused NJ high school quarterback's death

"We just think that's even more poignant and a nice memorial to honor him and stop the game," Kalikas said of the proposed moment of silence 18 minutes into each contest.

"It's only a football game. Sometimes we live and die with it, but something like this really puts things in perspective. Evan was a great football player and from all indications a great human being. I think it's nice that all Mid-State 38 games stop at the same time in order to honor one of our former student-athletes that unfortunately passed."

Voorhees will play at Warren Hills on Saturday at 7 p.m. in a game that was originally scheduled for the previous night, according to Voorhees Athletics Director Al Stumpf. The contest was supposed to be Warren Hills' Homecoming Game, but the school district has postponed all homecoming activities until further notice, according to its website.

Murray died after being injured in a game against Summit on Friday night. Massive internal bleeding due to a laceration of the spleen caused his death, according to Morris County Medical Examiner Dr. Ronald Suarez.

Suarez determined Murray's spleen was abnormally enlarged, making it more susceptible to injury. Suarez said there was no evidence of head trauma or heart disease. He classified the manner of death as accidental.

"As soon as we heard of this tragic situation, we started figuring out what we could do to support the family," Mid-State 38 Conference President Nick Serritella said, noting representatives from his league will not stop at helmet decals and a moment of silence.

"We'll discuss something we can do down the road, a memorial scholarship, possibly, so that this young man will not be forgotten."

Murray is the nation's third high school football player to die from injuries suffered on the field this month. A player in Louisiana died from injuries suffered after absorbing a hit on a punt return, while an Oklahoma player died eight days after being injured in a game.

“The high school athletics community, in my opinion, should always be looked at as a family,” GMC President Carl Buffalino said in explanation of his league members wearing decals to honor Murray.

“Even though Warren Hills is in a different league, the high school community still lost a member of the family. In support and out of respect to Evan and his family, this is the least we can do in the GMC to show our support.”

Mid-State 38 Conference and GMC schools previously wore helmet decals Riddell donated in the aftermath of Superstorm Sandy and following the catastrophic injury Eric LeGrand suffered while playing for Rutgers University.

More than 16,000 players from approximately 180 schools statewide wore No. 52 helmet decals in LeGrand’s honor in 2010, while players from the Mid-State 38 and GMC sported American Red Cross helmet decals in 2012.

“Riddell is a part of the football community and we are just hoping this little piece can help the Murray family and the Warren Hills family heal,” said Frauenheim, who is the son of legendary former Immaculata head coach Pierce Frauenheim.

Services for Murray are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday.

The road to a GMC White Division Championship and a NJ2-G4 berth goes through New Brunswick

By WoodbridgeFootball.com
 October 5, 2015

These are the games that will define the outcome of the GMC White and beyond.

- Woodbridge at New Brunswick – October 9, 2015, 7pm
- Colonia at Woodbridge – October 16, 2015, 7pm

- Woodbridge at South Plainfield – October 23, 2015, 7pm
- New Brunswick at Colonia – October, 30, 2015, 7pm

Woodbridge travels to New Brunswick to take on the Zebras on their new turf. They are 4-0 and have some gifted athletes. Maurice Ffrench, RB / WR (#6) has awesome speed and can burn an opponent if given space and freedom. Samad Davila, RB (#2) is a bruising back that can take the ball between the tackles while possessing above average speed. And Jahbree Jeffery-Seawright, QB (#3) is talented with a strong arm, capable of hitting Ffrench on deep routes.

On defense, the Zebras haven’t given up much in the way of points. Angel Reyes, DB (#27) and Tahjeir Montgomery, DT (#58) apply pressure with two way starters Ffrench, DB and Davila, LB.

New Brunswick has scored 126 (31.5 PG) while giving up 51 (12.75 PG).

Woodbridge is 4-0 and has their share of athletes. Tracy Fudge, QB (#10) leads the Barrons on offense. He possess a good arm and quick feet. He is capable of hitting his receivers with strikes and scrambling for yardage. Quaasim Glover, WR (#11) and James Modica WR (#5) both have above average speed, run precise routes, and have great hands. Keshawn Henry, RB (#23) and Nathan Lanier, RB (#30) share the ball on run plays.

The Barrons defense has been very stingy in the first four games, and It all starts with the front line. Alex LaGrippo, DT (#59), Bernardo Sanchez, DT (#54), Marquan Payne, DE (#44) and Antonio Prestien-Lopez, DE (#58). Behind them are Dylan Leone, LB (#51) who leads the team in tackles, Nick Nyers, LB (#52), Christian Figueroa, LB (#9), James Dunn, LB (#36), Darrin Tapon, DB (#4), and two way starters, Glover, S, Modica, S, Lanier, LB, Henry, DB..

Woodbridge has scored 140 (35.0 PG) while giving up 26 (6.5 PG).

Winning or losing this Friday will have two huge ramifications. First, is the ultimate finish in the GMC White standings. And second, the Power Points (NB equals 23 points +) gained or wasted in the NJSIAA North Jersey 2, Group 4 Playoff seedings. Win and the road is paved and looking good, lose and it is going to be a bumpy ride.

The objective is clear. Play one down at a time, create big plays while preventing the opponent from them, bend but never break. The game is 48 minutes long and momentum sways with the hearts of the team.

With that said...
